EDITORIAL NOTE

The 72 volumes in the SR(NSW) series were published from 1901 to 1970 but the series was never indexed. As the Editor appointed by the Council of Law Reporting for New South Wales to produce a Consolidated Index and Tables, Beatrice Gray, Barrister, read the judgments reported in the series (approximately 5,100) and prepared a set of catchwords of contemporary relevance for each judgment. This task extended over three years. From Gray's catchwords it was possible to generate the Consolidated Index, a Table of Cases, a Table of Statutes Judicially Considered and a Table of Words and Phrases. Of the cases reported in the SR(NSW), 638 were not included in the Index because they were no longer considered to be of continuing relevance to the legal profession.
